DEDICATION

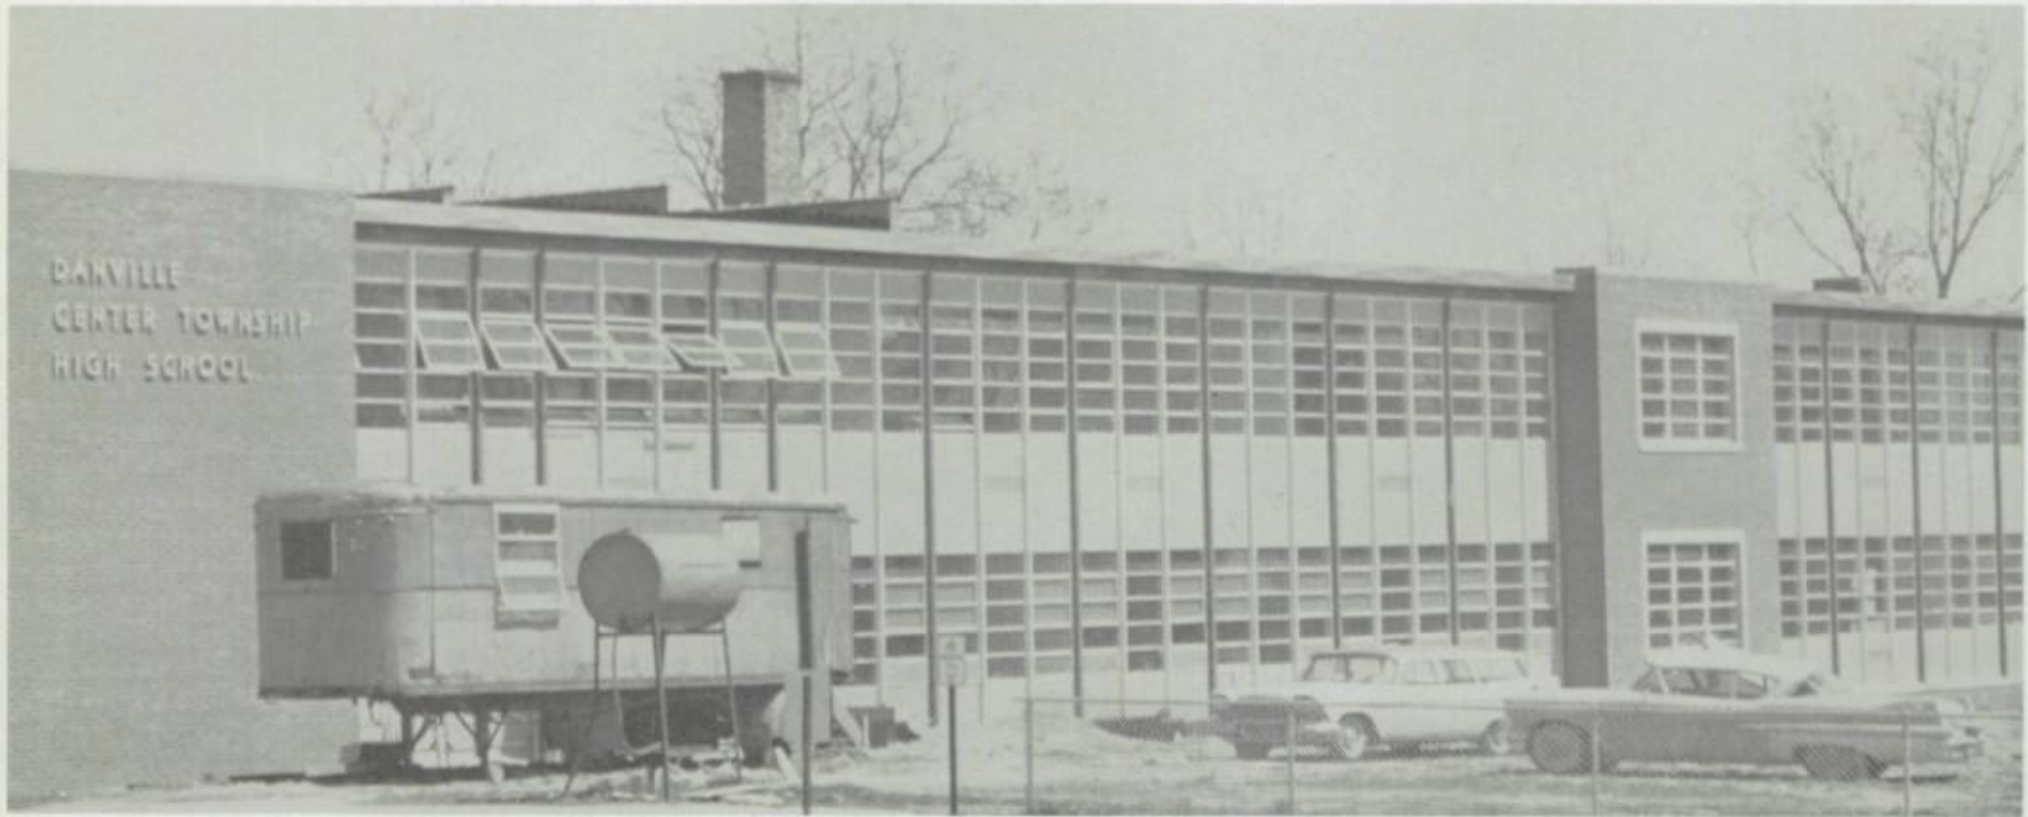

We, the class of 1959, dedicate our yearbook to Mrs. Evelyn Stevenson.

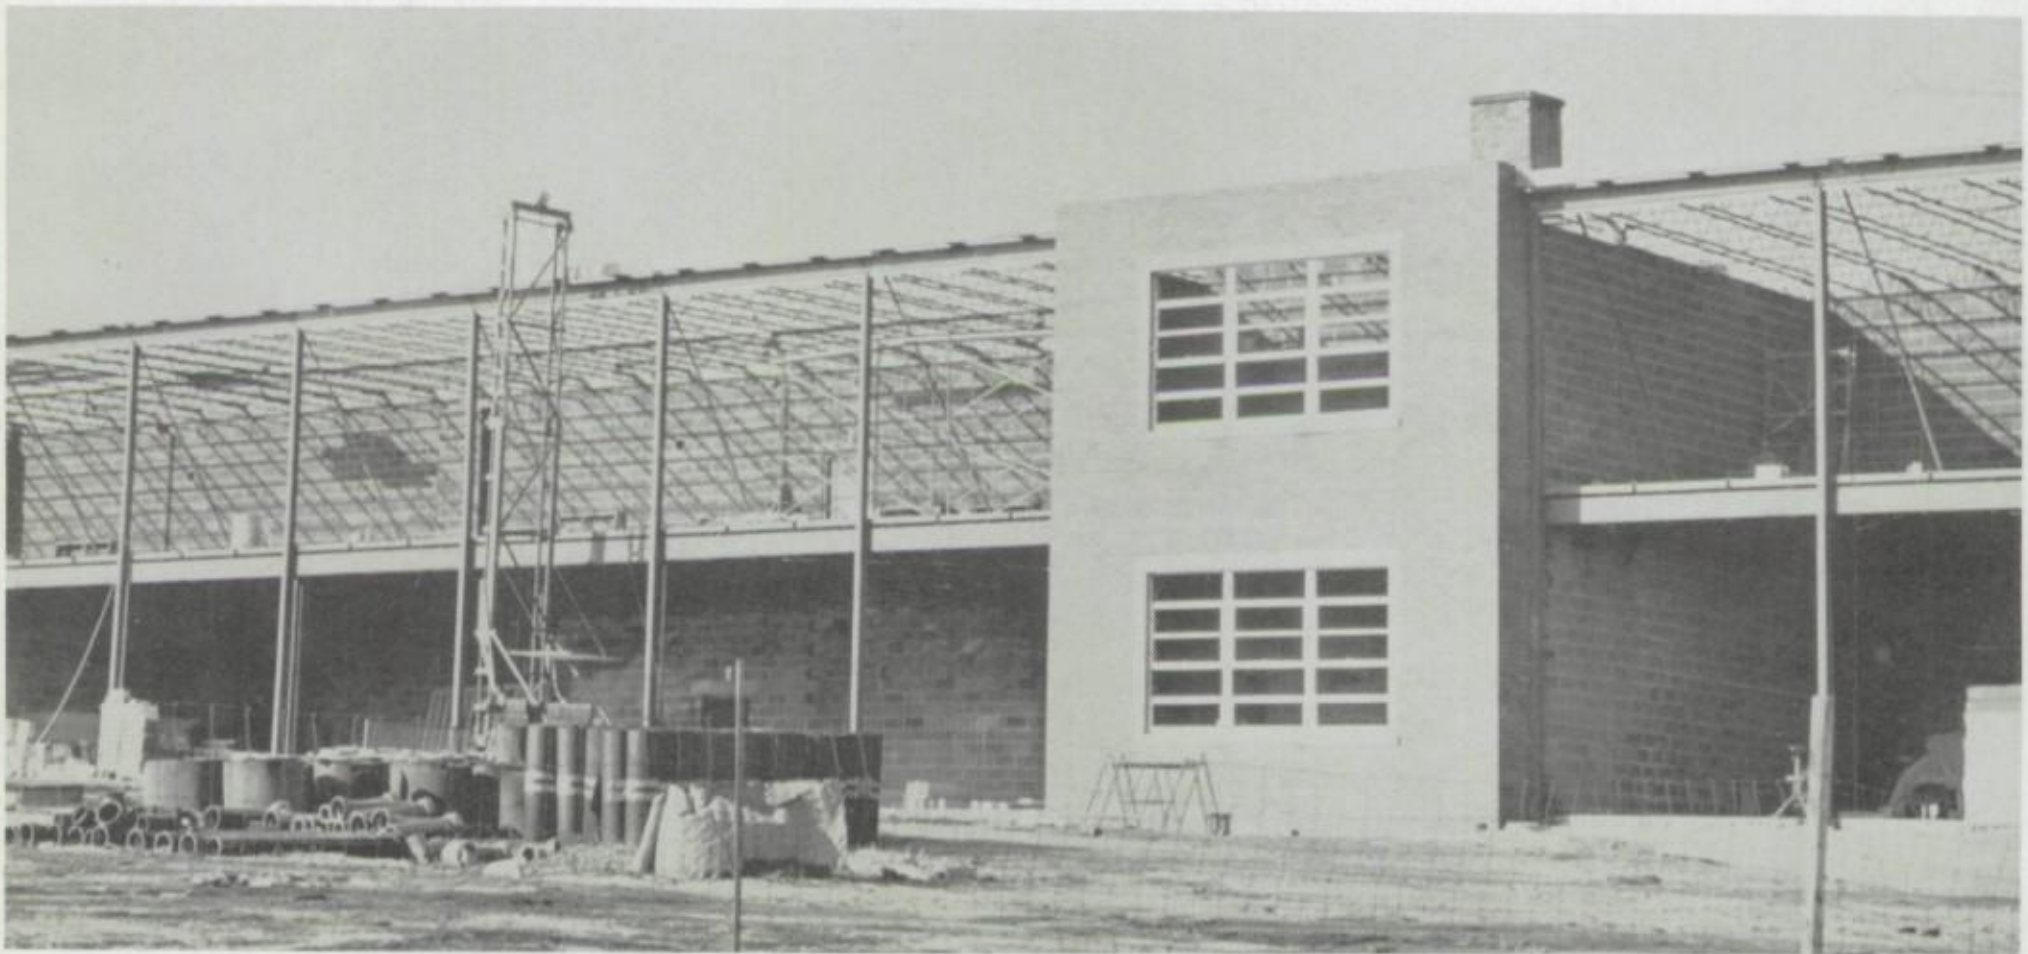

Mrs. Stevenson has taught art in the Danville Schools for thirteen years.

We regard her acquaintance as a highlight in our lives and wish her much happiness in her retirement.

AS WE LOOK TOWARD THE FUTURE

The Danville-Center Township high school building as it neared completion.

The new high school building as construction progressed.

WE REMEMBER THE PAST

Shown is the first high school building which was used from 1900 to 1929.

The Mattie A. Keeney Building was used for a grade school and high school until 1900.

In 1900 the first high school building in Danville was erected on the present site of the REMC Building.

The class of 1929 was the first class to graduate from the South Washington Street Building and the class of 1959 will be the last.

During the spring of 1958, construction was begun on the new high school building on the ground of the former Central Normal College. This building will be ready for use in the fall of 1959.

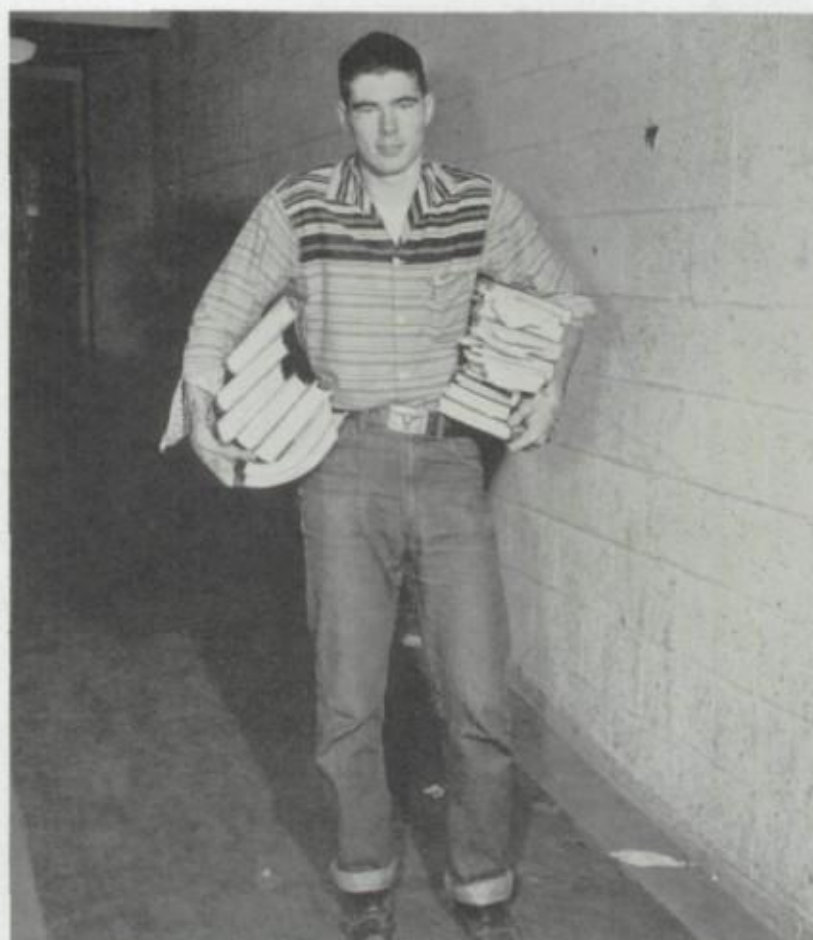

The South Washington Street Building, used as a high school for thirty years, will now be used as a grade school.

SCHOOL LIFE MOLDED BY TRADITION

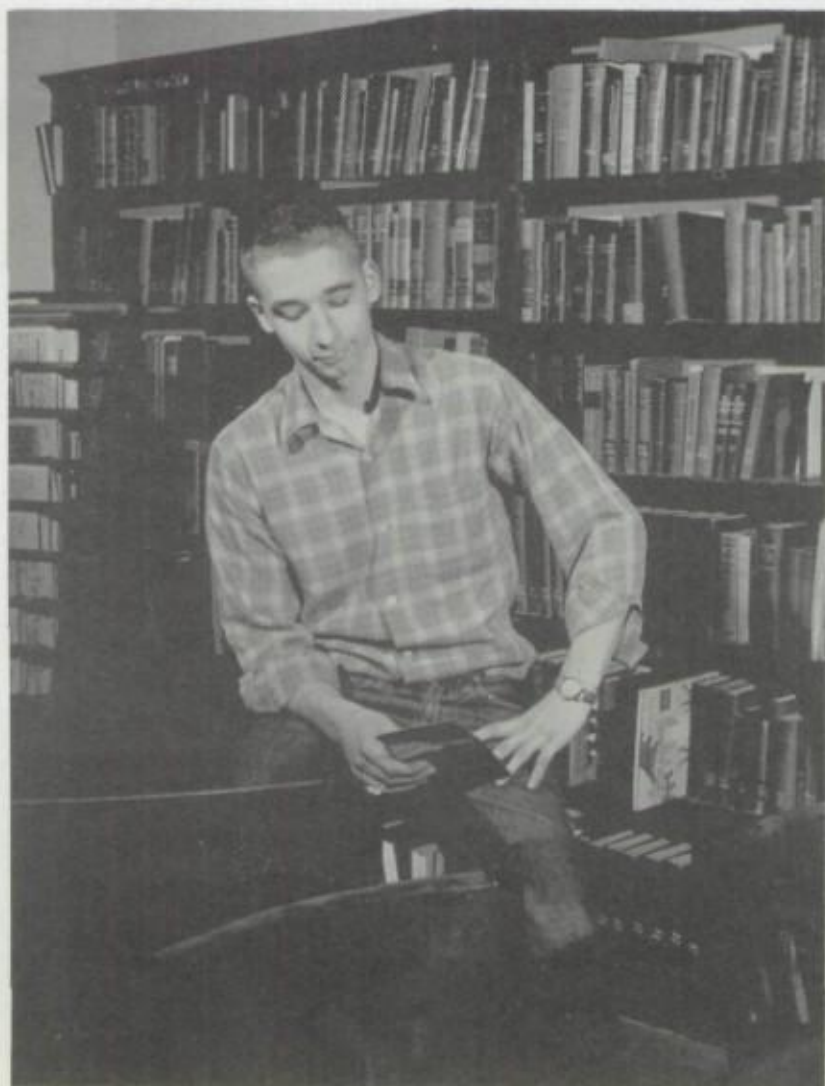

Karen Laymon, 1959 Track Queen, represented Danville at the Mid-State Track Meet at Washington High School.

Tim Sale, senior, totes his books home in search of that ever wonderful "A."

"I passed!" Charles Ellis seems to be saying as he looks at his report card.

Jack Fender signs Judy Franklin's petition for office during class elections.

SPARKED WITH ENTHUSIASM

Those wearing senior cords are Bill Franklin, Marcia Wyatt, Karen Laymon, Judy Parsons, Sharon Cummins, Susie Patterson, Bob Schults, Rex Servies, Floel Caskey, Judy Jordan, Judie Boulware, Judy Edmondson, Charlene Hollingsworth, Judy Adams, Ruth Ann Huffman, Becky Baker, Joan Peyton, Pat Rief, Sandy Mettler, Patsy Stanley, Julia Leavitt and Judy Martin.

Wayne Stanley, Bill Franklin and Marcia Wyatt, seniors, and Pat Pedigo, sophomore, take a coke break between classes.

With the high school students eating during three different lunch periods, crowded cafeteria lines are omitted.

CENTERED ON FUN AND EXCITEMENT

The change from junior high into high school is being discussed by freshmen, Tom Helton, Penny Terry, Ken Sale, and Judy Rodney.

A teenager's life overflows with interests and is occasionally interrupted for a brief battle with the books.

Staying up late to cram for final examinations and doing an experiment over until it works are all part of school and growing up.

John Shelton, Norman Dininger and Larry Lothridge, sophomores used the library, a quiet place, to study.

EXTRA-CURRICULAR ACHIEVEMENT

Mrs. Elmer Koch, representing the TriKappa, awarded Marcia Pritchard and Tim Sale a plaque for highest scholastic achievement in the senior class.

Mrs. Avis Walls, 5th grade teacher was awarded a plaque as Danville's "teacher of the year."

At the annual award night the outstanding teacher of the year and outstanding students were honored.

The American Legion Good Citizen awards were presented to Tim Sale and Marcia Pritchard, seniors, and Becky Parsons and David Irwin, eighth graders.

Karen Laymon was presented the senior D.A. R. award and seventh graders David Myers, James Disney and Harriett Hawley received the other D. A.R. awards.

The Epsilon Sigma Alpha sorority awards were given to James Disney and Connie Hanson.

Typing, shorthand, student council, junior high basketball awards and First National Bank gifts to the seniors were presented.

Varisty cheerleaders, basketball, track and baseball awards were presented.

Safety patrol, chorus and band awards were also presented.

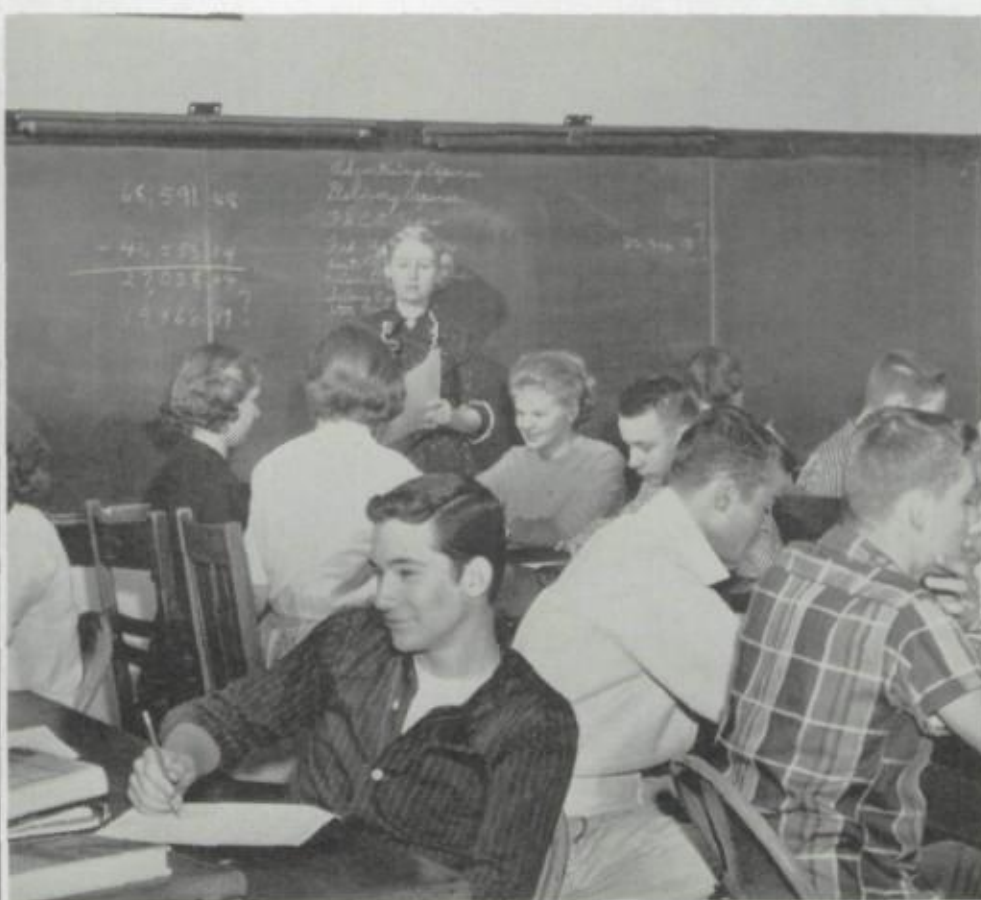

Mrs. Mabel Pritchett, English teacher, awarded an English key to Jack Clay, junior, for superior work. Sue Davisson also received this award.

INCLUDED BALL GAMES, CONTESTS AND

Mrs. Eggers dictates to her advanced shorthand class as they attempt to reach the 100 word goal.

Sophomores listen as Mrs. Eggers explains the directions for the general business practice set.

Juniors take a 10-minute writing in beginning typing as they try to earn their 30 word pins.

Judi Edmondson and Judy Adams do brief forms at the board as the other beginning shorthand class members take dictation.

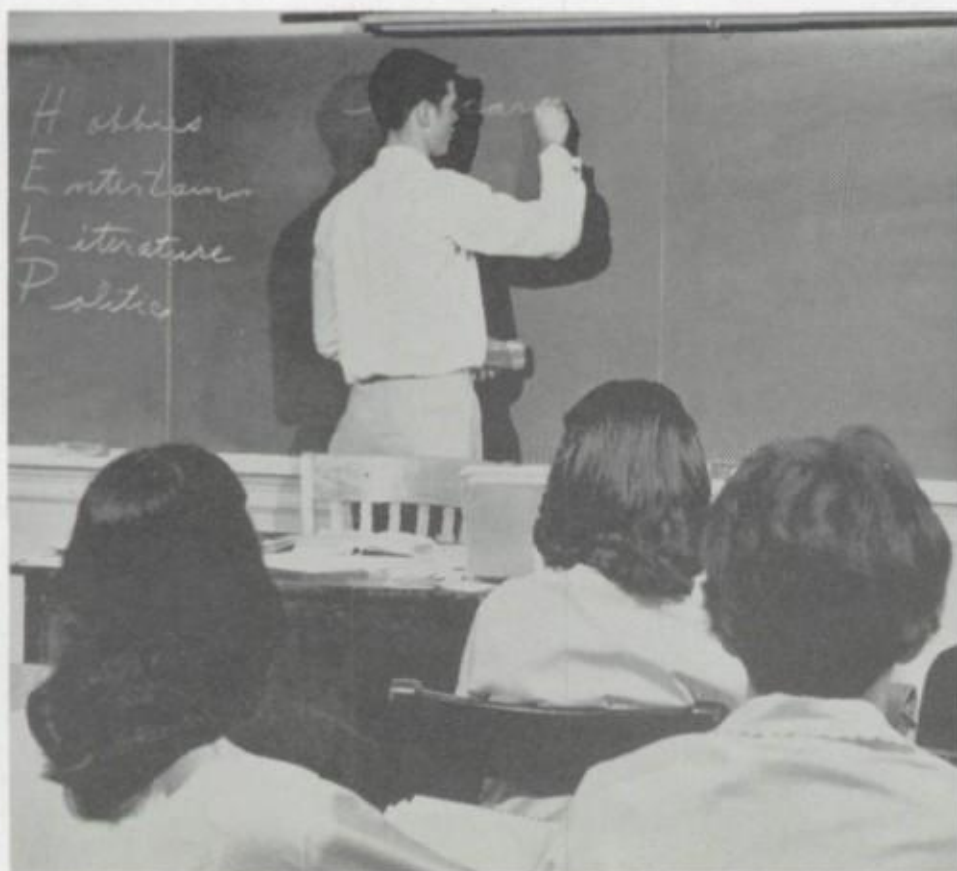

OCCASIONAL BATTLES WITH THE BOOKS

Charles Ellis and Bob Schultz listen while Mr. Gray explains a sociology question to Herman Garrett.

Mr. Brinkman's history class review for a test.

Tim Sale diagrams a sentence in senior English class.

The sophomore English class discuss the assignment given by Mrs. Hoge.

PROMOTED SCHOLASTIC ACHIEVEMENT

Members of the Latin II class check their assignments as Judy and Sandy Montgomery conjugate verbs at the board.

The variety of subjects offered at Danville range from the academic to the vocational.

Academic subjects prepare pupils for college while the vocational subjects prepare them for occupations.

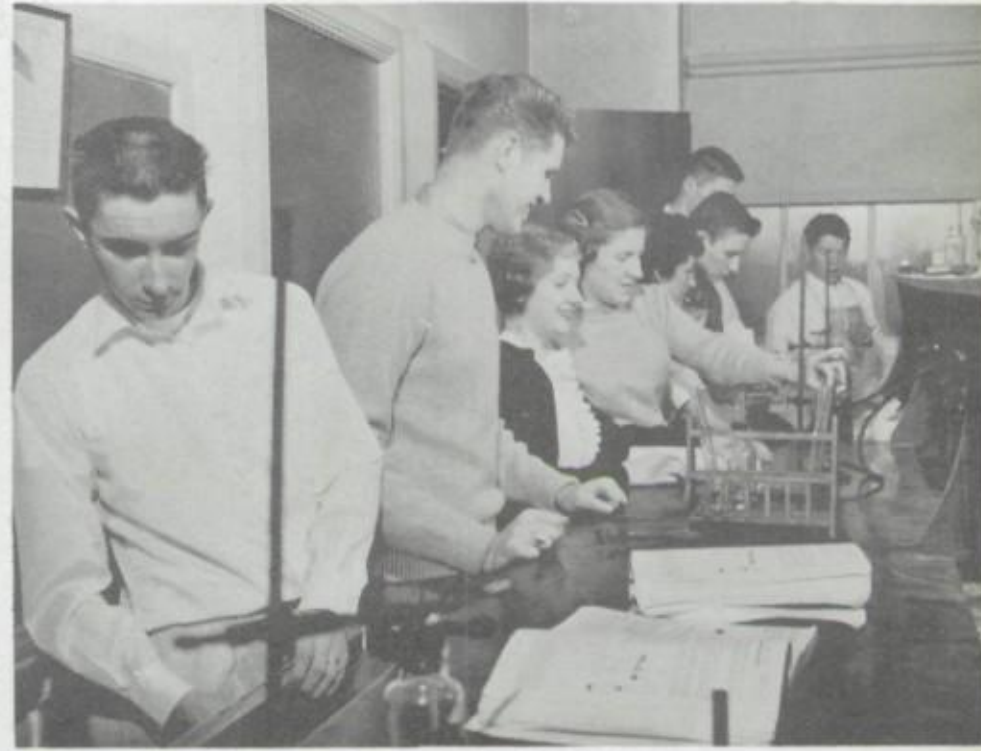

James Payne instructs pupils in his shop class as they complete their projects.

AND ENCOURAGED LEADERSHIP

Jim Higgins, Julia Leavitt, Judy Martin and Jere Crawley conduct an experiment in physics class.

Byron Wilson, Allen Hearn, Verletta Jackson, and Amy Harvey do an experiment in chemistry class.

Mr. Gibbs looks on as his biology class prepares their assignment.

Danville High School offers unlimited opportunities for the student who applies himself to his studies.

The science department is equipped to aid the student and help him achieve success.

The Library with its many books and volumes offers the student factual information. This information is available for evaluation and use by students in themes, papers, and reports.

In the Home Economics Department girls learn the art of cutting, pinning, and stitching a piece of material into a lovely garment; or the basics of cooking. What is learned here can be an economical hobby or useful vocation.

SPICED WITH VARIETY OF EVENTS

Judy Adams, Charlene Hollingsworth, Judi Edmondson, Linda Franklin, Joan Peyton and Susie Patterson sew on their senior skirts during home economics class.

Mrs. Rodarmel's physical education class busily does calisthenics before a basketball game.

Mrs. Stevenson watches her art pupils Wayne Stanley, Sharon Broyles, Carl Hoffman and Carroll Roberts as they put finishing touches on their pictures.

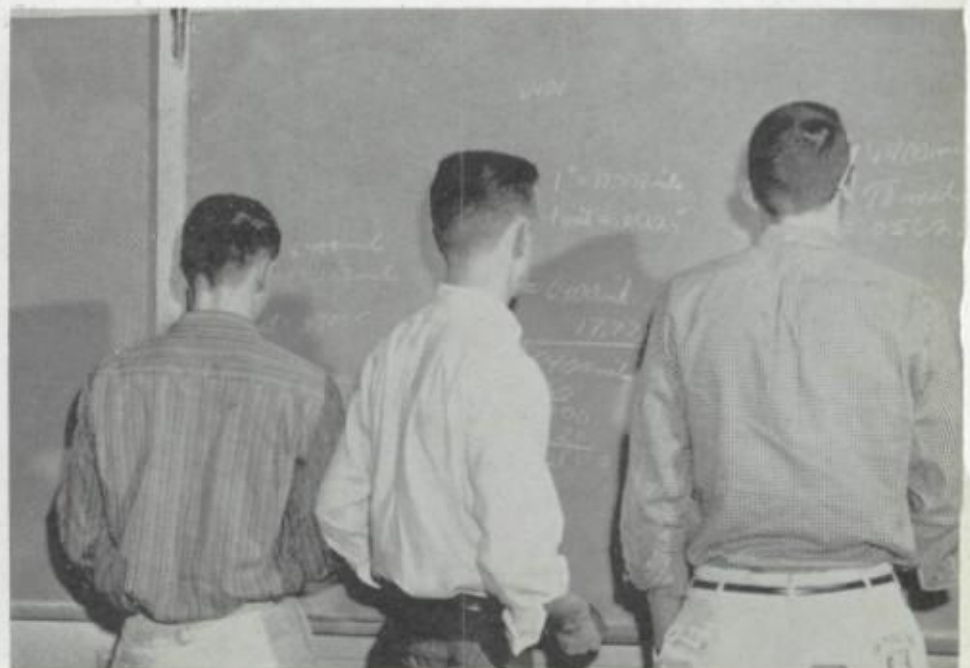

TAUGHT CITIZENSHIP FUNDAMENTALS

Mr. Etienne gives his freshman algebra class a tough problem.

Members of the advanced algebra class put their assignments on the board.

Jim Higgins, Harry Clark and Bill Franklin work a trig problem.

- - WIDENED OUR HORIZONS - - -

Freshmen dance the Rock and Roll at the Sweetheart Dance.

Danville had enthusiastic fans at the football games.

Formal dances and football games are part of the school activities. Also included are making plans for the special dates, downing mountains of pizza, hamburgers, milkshakes, and French fries, seeing the latest shows, learning the newest dances, glancing at the headlines, buying the coolest records, and keeping up an astounding pace.

This is a way of life for the high school teenager who will soon become a responsible citizen.

Girls hurry to and from the powder room before the dance begins.

STRENGTHENED OUR IDEALS

Egypt's Pyramids were never like this one shown by senior girls.

Ten heads are better than one.

Junior Sue Ann Davisson relaxes after an all night slumber party.

Senior Judy Parsons has K. P. after the senior picnic.

Judy Martin spies on classmates as they plan a charade during a senior party.

ENDED BY BACCALAUREATE, GRADUATION

Judy Jordan and Judy Martin relax after the May Prom.

Judy Parsons and John Daugherty win first prize in dance contest.

Slumber parties are fun for all.

Students dance to slow music.

ACTIVITIES

Activities are the diversion between the turmoil of rushing to class and the deadly silence of studying. To each individual activities means something different . . . a "coke date" with the gang, a "soc hop" in the gym . . . or a formal dance. But regardless of its meaning, to each person activities are a vital and important part of high school.

SENIOR SUSIE PATTERSON CROWNED QUEEN

Queen Susie Patterson and her court reigned over the Homecoming Dance.

The dance, in the Washington Street Gymnasium following the game, was sponsored by the Student Council.

Decorations were goal posts, yard markers, footballs, leaves and pictures of football players.

Susie Patterson, Homecoming Queen, is crowned then kissed by Bob Schults, Captain of the football team.

T. Rinderknecht and C. Shull ride on the Library float, first place winner in the Homecoming Parade. The theme was the crowning of the Queen by the football captain.

Bill Franklin and Karen Laymon were only two of the many seniors who worked on the senior float.

OF 1958 HOMECOMING; LIBRARY CLUB FLOAT WINS FIRST PRIZE

Rex Servies watches as Judi Edmondson and Charlene Hollingsworth vote for Queen Candidates.

SENIORS SPONSOR FRESHMAN RECEPTION

After the Grand March, Seniors and Freshmen dance the first waltz.

On September 20, the Seniors formally received the 84 Freshmen into high school. Silver stars and alternate light and dark blue crepe paper carried out the theme of the dance, "My Blue Heaven." Music was played by Gene Patton's band.

Craig Weidner, Freshman class President, is formally welcomed by Harry Clark, Senior class President.

Following formal introductions, Seniors and Freshmen await the Grand March.

All for a hayride are: G. Snyder, E. Barber, S. Patterson, W. Stanley, J. Parsons, J. Anderson, R. Smith.

Patty and Julia Leavitt sing about the "Darktown Strutters Ball".

STUDENTS PRESENT VAUDEVILLE

Susie Patterson and Judy Parsons give their interpretation of "Friendship".

The Vaudeville is presented by the high school students for the annual Halloween Festival.

Marcia Wyatt does a flapper pantomime of "The Banjo's Back In Town".

SENIORS DISPLAY ACTING ABILITIES

Mrs. Mabel Pritchett, play director, skillfully applies make-up to Patsy Stanley.

Jere Crawley, chief electrician, flips the switch for the stage lights.

How dare you accuse me of deliberately destroying your peonies?" Wayne Stanley snarles at Rex Servies, while Carolyn Tschudi looks on.

"Oh Elroy! What a beautiful ankle bracelet!" Judy Martin exclaims to Bill Franklin.

IN CLASS PLAY, 'STRICTLY FORMAL'

"Doesn't he look like that famous old statue by Rodan?" Karen Laymon asks Jack Edwards about Tim Sale.

"The only time anything gets picked up around this house is when it is ground into dust and picked up by the vacuum cleaner!" Wayne Stanley tells Marcia Wyatt.

"Aren't you being positively revolting?" Carolyn Tschusi asks Judy Adams.

FASHIONS, PAINTINGS HIGHLIGHT SHOW

Jeanett Crouch, junior, models a dress she made in home economics.

Senior, Charlene Hollingsworth, models her sheath dress.

Members of Miss Margaret Searce's home economics sewing classes modeled 96 outfits at the home economics style show May 19 at 8 p. m. in the high school auditorium.

Sherry Pruitt, sophomore, was the narrator. The decorations were Japanese lanterns and Japanese screens.

Thirty-five members of Mrs. Eveleyn Stevenson's art class also had their art work on display.

YACHT CLUB SITE OF SENIOR PARTY

Senior girls enjoy the banquet at the Yacht Club.

Jere Crawley and Phil Brickler display the Yacht Club's life-savers at the senior party.

The senior class party was May 22 at Cataract Lake. Dinner was served at 8 p. m. Prizes were awarded for bingo and door prizes were presented to one boy and one girl. Sponsors attending the dinner dance were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Cox, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Walls, and Mr. and Mrs. Willard Eggers.

Senior boys relax and watch T. V. at the Yacht Club.

Judy Parsons, Judi Edmondson, and Bob Schults attend senior picnic at Cataract Lake.

Candidates for Queen of the Christmas Dance are Marcia Wyatt, senior; Mitzi Martin, junior; Dana Willis, sophomore; and Angela Newhart, freshman.

MITZI MARTIN CROWNED QUEEN BY TIM SALE

Tim Sale, president of the Hi-Y, crowns Mitzi, Martin, queen, as Marcia Wyatt, Dana Willis, and Angela Newhart look on.

Mitzi Martin reigned as Snowflake Queen over the annual Christmas Dance, co-sponsored by the Tri-Hi-Y and Hi-Y.

White crepe paper trees with red ornaments scattered over them, suspended from green crepe paper streamers brought out the holiday atmosphere.

Red and white candy canes were given as favors to the couples.

Couples dance to the music of Lynn Jones' Band.

Candidates for the Sweetheart Dance are J. Edwards, G.A.A. candidate; King J. Higgins, senior; D. Scott, junior; B. Patterson, sophomore; L. Alverson, freshman.

Jim Higgins, senior candidate, is crowned by Judy Franklin, G. A. A. president.

HIGGINS CROWNED SWEETHEART KING

Couples dance to the music of the Cathedral High School Dance Band.

The Sweetheart dance in the Washington Street Gymnasium, was sponsored by the G. A. A.

Decorations consisted of a large red heart on a white background.

For the first time, a band supplied the music for the dance instead of the usual disc jockey.

Jim Higgins, senior, was the King, and ruled over the dance.

SENIORS SPONSOR FINAL CONVOCATION

Henry Cox, principal, gives the closing speech at the Senior Convocation.

Carolyn Tschudi reads the Senior Will.

Carl Hoffman and Judy Edmondson practice for the Commencement exercises.

The Senior boys wear Bermudas to the last Convocation.

Wonder if those tears are genuine?

JUNIORS BID SENIORS GOODBYE AT RECEPTION WITH THEME 'SAYONARA'

Toastmaster Steve Hayes prepares to introduce Harry Clark, senior class president.

Seniors and their dates dance to the music of Buzz Burgess' Band.

Juniors join the seniors in a spirited Bunny Hop.

"Sayonara," Japanese goodbye, was the theme for the Junior-Senior Reception at the Indiana University Medical Center in Indianapolis, April 10.

Green and White Carnations were used as centerpieces on the tables for the dinner.

Following the dinner, music was played for the formal dance by Buzz Burgess and his band.

BOB SCHULTS CROWNED JUDY PARSONS

The Royal Court included Judy Adams, Jim Higgins, Karen Laymon, flower girl Marcia Hadley; Queen Judy Parsons, Robin Hood Bob Schults, crown bearer Steve Gray; Marcia Wyatt, Harry Clark, and Judy Edmondson.

Flower girl Marcia Hadley and crown bearer Steve Gray are shown before the dance.

Judy Parsons was crowned May Queen by Bob Schults, Robin Hood, at the May Prom, May 2.

Members of the Court were Tim Sale, Charlene Hollingsworth, Charles Ellis, Judy Adams, Jim Higgins, Karen Laymon, Marcia Wyatt, Harry Clark, Judi Edmondson, Jack Edwards, Susie Patterson and Bill Franklin.

The lavender, aqua, pink and white ribbons of crepe paper, which enclosed the dance floor, along with the water fountain in the center of the floor created the "Springtime" theme of the Prom.

SENIOR VARSITY PLAYERS

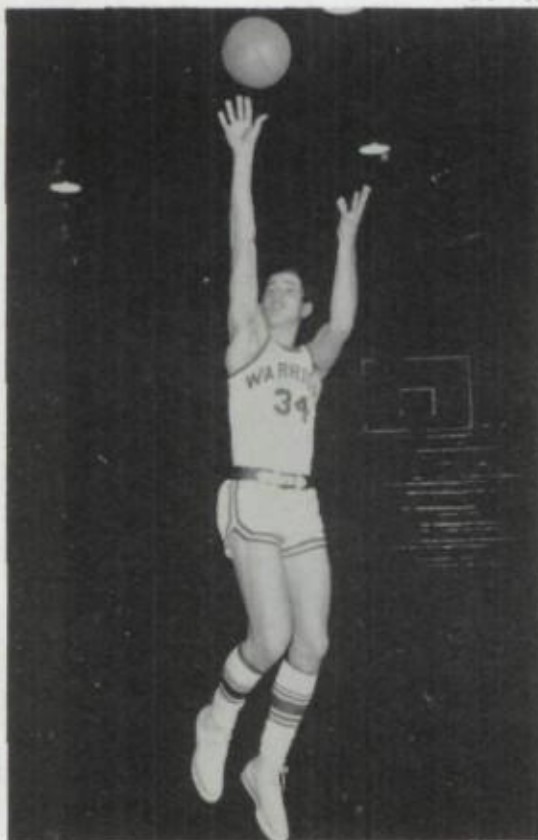

Jack Edwards

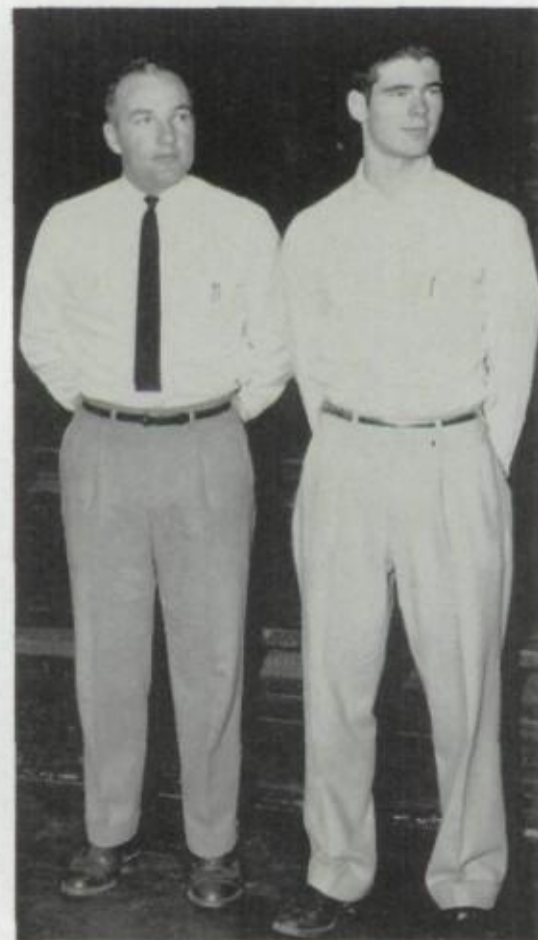

Charles Ellis

Jim Higgins

Bob Schults

Coach Max Gibbs, and student manager Tim Sale.

The 1958-59 season was Max Gibbs first year as coach at Danville High School.

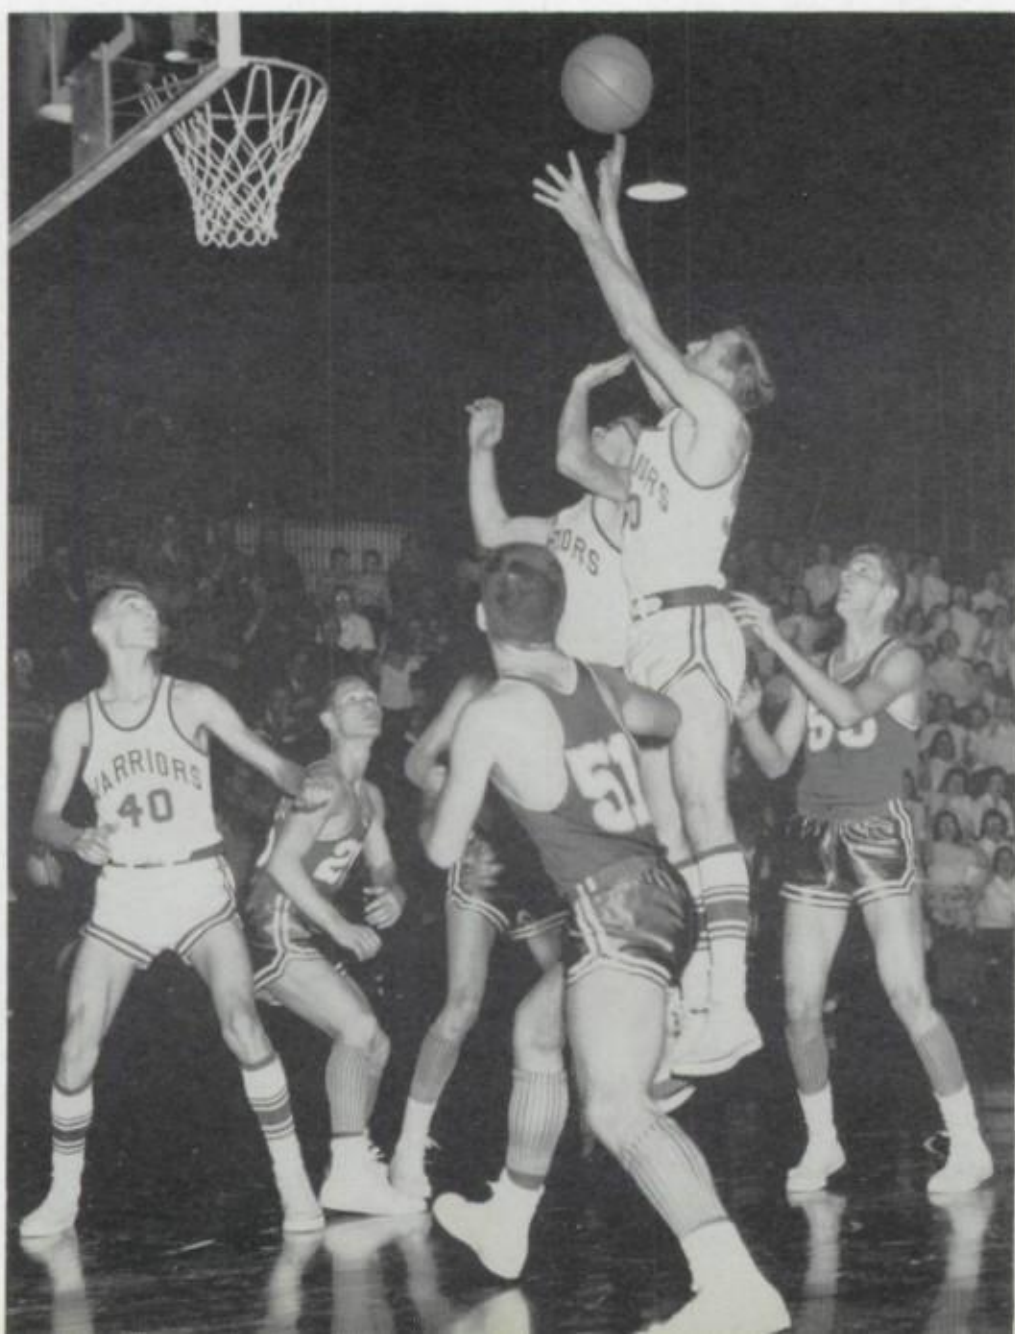

Coach Gibbs was a member of the Danville High School Sectional Tourney Champs in 1945.

Mr. Gibbs attended the former Canterbury College and Butler University.

WARRIORS FACE STIFF COMPETITION

Coach Gibbs, C. Smith, J. Shelton, J. Higgins, B. Patterson, C. Ellis, J. Edwards, S. Hayes, B. Bair, J. Rutledge, B. Schults, H. Grammer, D. Thompson.

Although the Warriors had a losing season, they won three of their seven Mid-State Conference games.

As the season progressed the boys developed team work, respect for each other and sportsmanship that is so necessary in athletics.

Harrold Grammer, Sophomore, and Jim Rutledge, Junior, tip in two points to add to Danville's score while Dick Thompson, Junior, watches.

DANVILLES TRACKMEN POUND CINDERS

FIRST ROW: Coach Brinkman, R. Tschudi, G. Shields, D. Thompson, J. Edwards, R. Servies, B. Schults, B. Wilson. SECOND ROW: D. Lange, T. Rinderknecht, N. Williams, J. Gilbert, B. Lawson, B. Brock, N.
